CUDDY DEMARCO MAKES CHOPPING BLOCK OF JOHNNY HORVATH, BEFORE THE LARGEST CROWD OF THE SEASON

If there are any followers of boxing in Charleroi today who have doubted in any way that Cuddy Demarco is a coming champion, those parties were not at the Charleroi Baseball park last night.

In his encounter with Johnny Horvath of Mansfield, DeMarco showed the local fans some real fighting, some clever boxing, some hard punching, and a mixture of ring generalship and all around cleverness that is seldom seen in the roped arena.

The weight of the two boys was announced as 135 pounds when they entered the ring and after they had posed for their pictures, went after each other in a way that showed they meant it, and after the second round, the first and second being slow, Horvath was made the victim of DeMarco's clever punching. The local boy took every one of the ten rounds and in four of the ten had Horvath in a groggy condition. In the seventh round DeMarco caught Horvath with a short left hook on the neck which sent him to the mat. He was up immediately, however, but during the balance of the round DeMarco punished him until he went to his corner in an almost helpless state and was revived by his seconds.

The eighth and ninth rounds were of the whirlwind order. Cuddy hit his man at will and when the tenth round came the Ohio mauler held on for dear life to avoid a knockout. DeMarco would pull away from his hugging tactics and race around the ring until he got an opening and then like a flash would land several rights and lefts in succession before Horvath was able to clinch and hold on.

At the end of the last round Horvath was so groggy that he was only able to stagger to his corner after the bell.

Red Mason, Cuddy's manager, Johnny Bay, and Tony DeMarco were in Cuddy's corner.

The three preliminaries were all good, well fought bouts. In the semi-final between Judy Muraz of Charleroi and Eddie Bayne of Verona, of six rounds, was won by the Charleroi boy. In the second round Muraz caught Bayne with a right cross to the jaw and sent him to the mat for the count of eight. After that Bayne fought a closer fight and was more careful but the Charleroi boy was too much for him and the decision was a popular one.

The second bout between Davy Davies of Roscoe and "Pug" Phillips was a clever bout. The boys were well matched and put up a pleasing exhibition of what seemed to be a good draw, but the judges decided in favor of Davies. The decision was very unpopular with the audience who gave vent to their feelings with much hooting.

The opening bout between "Kid" Dunlop of Ohio and Tommy O'Mara, a massive Greek of Douora, was an unscientific slugging match between two big men and afforded much amusement to the audience. Dudley proved to be the most educated fighter of the two and landed his left uppercut, which seemed to be the only thing he had, at will. Dudley weighed 180 pounds and O'Mara 176 1-4. The judges decided in favor of Dudley as the winner. In the second round Dudley landed one of his famous left uppercuts on O'Mara's jaw and the Greek went down for the count of five.

The affair was handled in the usual way and the management was rewarded with the largest crowd that has ever attended a boxing show in this vicinity, there being over three thousand fans around the ring. The officials were: L. L. Lowstuter and Joseph Connell, judges; Jack Mier, substitute judge; Martin Dietz, referee; Henry Swickey, time keeper, and Frank Delvaux, announcer. As one bout was ended the men for the next bout were at the ringside ready to go on for the next one, which was a pleasing feature of the show. The State Boxing Commission was represented by Thos. J. O'Brien who had charge of the officials of the affair.

The Little World Series Starts At Brooklyn Today, Emil Yde And Dazzy Vance

The "World's Series" of the National League starts this afternoon when Pittsburgh's Pirates meet the Brooklyn Dodgers in a three game series at Brooklyn. On Monday they take the Giants for another three game series. The next six games will decide the pennant in the National league.

Yesterday at Philadelphia the Pirates had to fight with their backs to the famed short fence to stave off an impending double defeat—an eventuality which would have sounded taps over their flag hopes. Fortunately the Buccos found their punch in the eighteenth inning of the afternoon and the belated spurt gave them a 50-50 break with the lowly Phillies. The collapse of two pitchers plus bad baseball gave the Quakers a 6 to 5 victory in the opener. The nightcap tempered the severe headache that went with the first game. The score of this battle was 6 to 3.

If the Pirate pitchers fail to find themselves in the next three days, as the Pirates are lost, so far as the flag is concerned. The pitching of late has been close to atrocious. The hurlers can't seem to be able to finish

PEERLESS LEADER IS LAID TO REST AT LOS ANGELES

Los Angeles, Sept. 18.—The funeral of Frank Chance, peerless leader of the Chicago Cubs and a leading figure of the baseball world for a quarter of a century, was held here this afternoon. Burial was in Rosedale cemetery.

Pallbearers include Barney Oldfield and Orville Overoll, who were famous on speedway and pitcher's mound, respectively, when Chance was at the height of his baseball career. Hundreds of friends and former associates of the great leader wired their condolences.

A German professor claims that he has "evolved a mathematical formula" by which it will be possible to produce an "automatic author." There is an impression that we have authors of that kind in this country already, or at least that their output smells strongly of machinery.

BILL McKECHNIE IS OPTIMISTIC OVER RESULT

BY BILL McKECHNIE, Manager of the Pittsburgh Pirates.

New York, Sept. 19.—The tale will be told within a week. The Pirates start today in a series of six games against Brooklyn and New York that not only will decide what is to become of the Pittsburgh club in the race but may have much to do with the deciding of the pennant.

I have no regrets to offer as to the present position of the Pirates in the pennant race. We have played a lot of good baseball and have been guilty of some that weren't so good. The club has been well up in the race all season and it has taken a good club to stand the strain over such a long stretch. The Brooklyn club had one advantage in avoiding the worry of the early months that the other contending teams had to shoulder.

Our club is in fine shape now and we are ready to make what perhaps will be our last bid for the championship in the coming six games. I have no predictions to make on what we will do against the Brooklyn and New York clubs, but we have done very well under pressure in other critical series earlier in the season. The players all know that everything depends on the results of these six games and I feel sure that the strain will not affect them any more than their opponents who will be under the same mental hazard.

Brooklyn has some fine pitchers, but we are fairly well fixed ourselves. The Brooklyn pitchers have been under a greater strain and it is not unreasonable to figure that they are going to crack soon. Perhaps it will be in this series.

The players are all ready and if we don't win out over the Robins and the Giants—well, then, we don't deserve to win.

Inconstant
The critic was talking about love. "Good writers," he said, "never treat love as an immortal and divine thing. Poor writers always do."

"Poor writers go on about love ridiculously. They are like young Jack Hoskins."

"I like you, Mr. Hoskins," a pretty girl said to young Jack. "But I like Mr. Hemingway, too. Mr. Hemingway," she added with a sliver, "says he thinks about me 365 days in the year."

"Ho! He wants one day off every four years, does he?" said Jack Hoskins. "Surely Miss Featherstonbaugh—Ethel—surely you don't compare a lukewarm attachment like that to a burning passion such as mine!"

HARRY GREB AFTER TUNNEY FOR A BOUT IN PITTSBURGH RING

"If Gene Tunney will fight me in Pittsburgh I'll let him bring his own referee and judges with him and I guarantee as much money as he got in Cleveland Wednesday night," declared Harry Greb yesterday upon his return from the Forrest City where he battled Tunney Wednesday.

"Of more than 20 writers at the ringside only two gave the bout to Tunney, one of them from his own home town. Three Cleveland papers gave me the fight without question while the Associated Press and The Gazette Times called it a draw. I think that is conclusive proof that Tunney did not beat me. Gene is one man I can beat him. That's why I would like to get Tunney into a local ring with me. He can have the official decision if that means anything to him. All I want is to prove to the fans that I can beat him and will leave it to their judgment. If the lightweight champ wants a soft piece of change let him fight me in Pittsburgh. I'll grant him the official decision before the start, but I'll prove to everybody that I can beat him."

Cows Peacefully Graze Where Once War Ruled

Southern Denmark has many things to show to the stranger within her gates, and in the south of Seeland—best known of the three islands, ferry-bridged, which, together with the rest of the portion of Schleswig-Holstein, make up the modern kingdom of Denmark—one may visit a model Danish dairy farm which has its being in a sixteenth century fortified farmhouse, says the Christian Science Monitor.

At the quaint old farm of Holmergaard a stone taken from the ancient archway gives the date of the building as 1571, and, though the whitewash which covers the masonry hides its rugged outlines in part, still where the water of the moat laps the foundations one can still see the massive forms of the old stones.

There are many of these old fortified farms in Funen and Seeland, now happily requiring no more to guard them against aggressions, but in olden days they were little forts in themselves, sheltering in troublous times the whole neighborhood and storing provisions enough for a siege in their capacious granaries. The outbuildings of Holmergaard are immense, built around a great quadrangle paved with cobblestones.

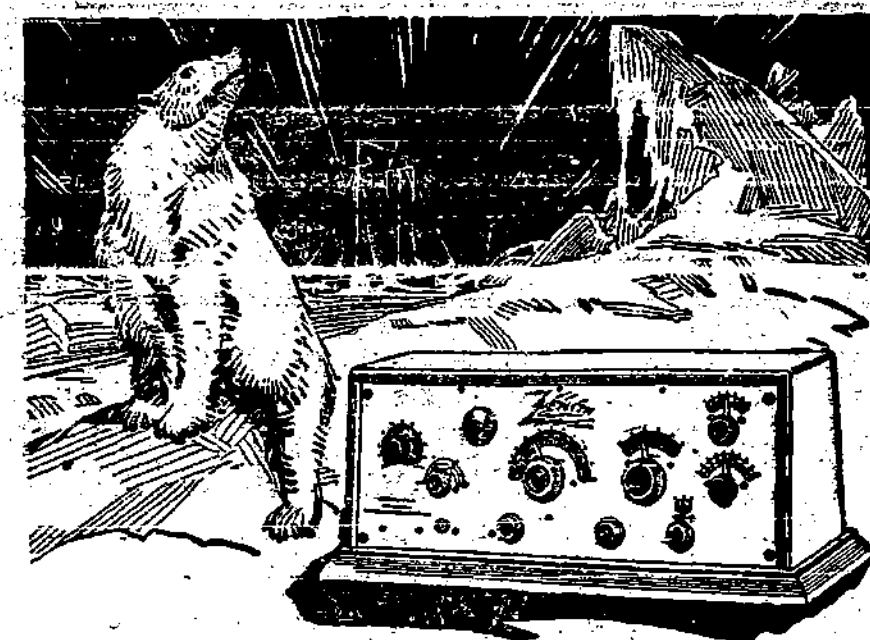

Making Writers Efficient

A "scheme of work" for writing short stories is given by Max Bonter in "Fiction Writers on Fiction Writing," the short story analysis compiled by Arthur Sullivan Hoffman from answers to a questionnaire he sent more than 100 authors concerning their creative methods. The scheme is:

1. Be sure an idea is worth developing from a "human interest" standpoint.
2. Develop the climax first.
3. Start off the characters like a bunch of obstacle racers and bring them to the climax as quickly, but as logically, as possible.
4. Write tersely at first, expanding where advisable—rather than write voluminously and chop out.
5. Write nothing that won't at least put a grain of weight into the final wallop.

PLYMOUTH ROCK IS TARGET FOR BOTTLES

Ancient Landmark Chipped by Souvenir Hunters.

Plymouth, Mass.—Some person or persons, probably the latter, has been throwing champagne bottles at Plymouth rock and they hit it, too. For there are white scars on the face of the panel which bears the date "1620." Samuel Rice, who is the custodian of the rock, the portico over it and the surrounding premises of the commonwealth reservation, made the discovery. He said the gravelly beach fill around the rock which permits only the upper third of the stone to be seen, was well covered with broken glass, and he knew that six bottles had been used in the bombardment, for he picked up the bottoms and necks of that number and there might have been more, judging by the pieces of glass.

Mr. Rice also says that some relic-hunter has stolen a silver from the rock, and points out what seems to be a freshly broken spot on the weather-worn surface close to which are marks as if some one had done a bit of hammering.

Plymouth Rock was taken from the custody of the Pilgrim society of this town in 1920 by the commonwealth of Massachusetts and is now a ward of the state. It lies about eight feet below the flooring of the portico which covers it and it is possible to walk about three sides of it. The other side is toward the sea and a low arch there allows the waves to wash in when the tide is high enough. Stout metal bars close this opening—partly—for it is perfectly possible to creep through beneath the grating, or no feat to climb down from the floor of the portico to reach the rock. That part of the town is almost deserted at night. The conditions are such that a souvenir hunter could easily obtain his desire after dark and be almost safe from interruption.

The old canopy which covered the rock from 1867 to 1900 was dismantled with tall steel grill gates which were locked nights, and the stone laid in plain view from the street, and not below it as it now does, so marauders had little chance then. Protection of some kind is needed for the stone.

IT IS UP TO THE PEOPLE

Calvin Coolidge will be the next President of the United States if the people of the United States exercise to the full their right of citizenship and express by ballot their sentiment and their judgment. It is only by a small vote in the nation on election day due to indifference of American citizens that there can be any other result. This prediction is made from a study of reports received from all sections of the country; reports not from politicians but from individuals in every walk of life and from newspapers, the editors of which have made a careful survey of conditions. This composite opinion represents the views of men and women in all walks of life, farmers, mechanics, bricklayers, dairymen, stock-growers, railroad men, lawyers, storekeepers, school teachers, plasterers, carpenters, plumbers, bankers, garagemen, editors, clerks, barbers, automobile dealers, ministers, members of women's organizations and many others too numerous to mention.

One of the strong reasons for the success of the president at the coming election is the attitude of the women of the nation, they believe in Coolidge, they know that he is honest and will help them safeguard the home, they don't want to see a change that would, without doubt, reduce wages and deprive their children of a chance to advance in the world. They are for Coolidge because he is familiar with their problems. He stands for the honest and clean things of life.

Labor realizes that its chance for high wages is far better under Coolidge than any other candidate. The railroad men who favored McAdoo are coming over every day to Coolidge for they realize that from him they will get a square deal.

The farmers have not been fooled by the LaFollette platform, they remember, as do the producers of dairy products, that the third party candidate, LaFollette, could have secured for them greater protection if he had made the effort and had been a constant attendant of the sessions of the committee, his vote might have blocked the free traders. The dairy men do not agree with LaFollette in his "reduce the tariff" policy on many things that are produced in this country, neither are the stockmen going to enlist under the banner of the man from Wisconsin. The fairy tales that counted like some of the bed-time stories one hears on the radio, that have been sent to the farmer have not been accepted as the truth of the men who till the soil, they have seen through the flimsy arguments and misleading statements that have been sent out by free traders and low tariff supporters who do not dare come out with a statement saying that free trade or a low tariff would help the farmer, these spellbinders when asked if a low tariff would cause our prices to compare with the prices of the poor peasant in Europe generally change the conversation.

A nation-wide movement is on foot to get out the vote this year, all classes of people are interested in having the verdict made square and clean cut and thousands who have never before voted for a republican resident will, this fall, register their votes in favor of the principles of liberty and justice as against the teachings of the soviet. As one paper in Wyoming says, "A good bit is to be gained by studying the LaFollette platform." In it will be discovered many surreptitious stabs at the very vitals of this country. In some way not open to public view LaFollette is in close touch with alien forces engaged in boring from within for control of this country. And who knows the purpose for this desire for control? It cannot be honest or it would be open and above board. Dishonest purposes are those that are concealed and surrendered by mystery.

General Dawes said in a recent speech, referring to LaFollette's platform, "Does he think that we are a race of fools?"

High wages, good times generally and a reduction of taxes and the strictest economy in government expenditures are matters that the voters are going to carefully consider.

PUBLICITY AND THE COURTS

Recently the Chicago Tribune, possibly with a notorious case in mind, declared that too much publicity is given by the press to crimes and accused but untold persons, which in no few instances is true. The Tribune even advocated which is surprising the enactment of laws limiting the publicity of the trial of the parties.

BILL BOOSTER SAYS

ONLY PAY TOO MUCH ATTENTION TO WHAT PEOPLE SAY THAT'S MY MOTTO! WHY, IF OLE MAN NOAH HAD LAID OFF WORK EVERY DAY TO BANK OUT 'EM SCOOTING NEIGHBORS, HE'D NEVER HAVE FINISHED THE ARK IN TIME TO SAIL WHEN 'YH WATERS ROSE!

far, forbidding newspapers to make more than brief mention of crimes until the accused are brought into court. The subject being taken up by Newspapers, a few editors writing to that periodical inclined toward the Tribune's view, but the majority vigorously denied the need or desirability of such restrictions upon the press. Some of the latter admitted that there are newspapers which overpass the bounds of decency, but contended that the remedy should be found in the education of public sentiment.

It is true that there is too often a sort of trial by newspapers in advance of trial by the courts, but it is also true that far more harm would result from any limiting of the freedom of the press than from the abuse of that freedom. One is reminded of the epoch-making dictum of Thomas Jefferson, in connection with the acknowledged abuse of the freedom of the press, that "all this is better than European bondage." In spite of the harmful tendency toward "trial by newspapers," it must be admitted that the press plays a very useful part in the exposure of crime, the energy and intelligence of reporters aiding in clearing up criminal mysteries and bringing the guilty to justice. The first amendment to the Constitution having provided that "Congress shall make no law, abridging the freedom of speech or of the press," and public sentiment having supported that provision for more than a century, it is distinctly surprising to find any newspaper representative calling for the limitation of that freedom.

The Milwaukee Journal is willing for Secretary Hoover to standardize chinaware in hotels and cut down the 700 varieties to 160, but insists on reservations as follows: "Go to it, Mr. Hoover, but don't invade our private dining room; if you do, we shall be against you. For your rules and regulations might outlaw that old chipped pitcher which was handed down from grandmother's china closet; or that silver service which our forefathers brought from 'way down east." We prize them highly, and, after all, a man's dining room is a very important part of his castle."

Speaker Gillett says the fight is between a "brilliant dashing cavalier" from Virginia and a "sagacious New England Puritan endowed since Prince Rupert charged Cromwell's Ironsides." Leaving "outcome" predictions to the cocks, it may be worth while to mention that Washington, Jefferson, Madison, Monroe and Tyler were Virginians, and Wilson and William Henry Harrison were natives of that State, while all New England has contributed only three elected Presidents, Mr. Coolidge, like Tyler, being an "accidental."

The special counsel for the Government, Messrs. Pomeroy and Roberts, have requested a new Grand Jury in Washington to investigate former Secretary Fall in connection with some oil land leases with which Sinclair and Doheny are not concerned. It seems that Fall was a busier man than was supposed and left tracks that are still to be uncovered.

AT THE MASQUERADE

She whirled me with a reckless abandon, She melted and writhed in my grasp,

She danced in a manner to cause me. Rouse as I have been, to gasp!

I tell you, said the real estate agent, there isn't a finer residence on earth than this. Just look at the wonderful scenery!

The scenery is all right, replied the home searcher. The only trouble is that there is too much of it between here and the city.

Paint the House NOW!

DO you know that autumn is the best house-painting season of the year?

The summer sun has drawn the excess moisture from surfaces until they have become dry and porous. The paint will stick better, fill up the pores of the wood more thoroughly and last longer. Then, when the damp days of winter arrive, the house will be thoroughly protected.

Do your house painting now! Paint garages, barns, porches, woodwork, everything exposed to the weather. Above all, use good paint.

Practical painters will tell you that Lawrence Paints are best for all painting purposes. High-grade ingredients, careful manufacture and over a quarter of a century experience are a few reasons why Lawrence Paints are so highly recommended.

They are sold by paint and hardware stores most everywhere.

Mrs. George S. Micht, of Lincoln avenue, who was taken to the Allegheny General Hospital at Pittsburgh several days ago underwent a serious operation yesterday. Mrs. Micht's friends will be glad to learn that the operation was successful and that she is resting easy today, with a hope that she will fully recover. The operation was performed by Dr. Chalfant.

Fear and Grandma Snow
Never Got Acquainted

Grandma Snow, writes a contributor, was tall, well-formed, as straight as an arrow and as brave as any man. We affectionately called her our major general. Like a real Spartan mother, when in '02 her youngest son came home dejected because he had been refused a volunteer because he was under age, she promptly tied on her bonnet and marched back with him to the recruiting office.

"Now, see here, sergeant," she said, "this boy's heart is set on helping his country as his brothers are doing. He is very tall, strong and willing, and his father and I think he shows a proper spirit. So we give our full consent to his enlistment. What is more, we are both going to offer our services. You can put my name down low as a nurse for anywhere they wish to send me."

In later years when she was nearing her eightieth year she journeyed to a distant town to visit her son and his family. She occupied a bedroom on the parlor downstairs with another member of the household. One night in the small hours steps sounded on the stairs and the following conversation took place at breakfast time.

"Mother, I hear there were people on the stairs during the night."

"Yes, John, there were two men."

Grandma Snow replied placidly.

"What did you do?"

"I opened the door, of course, and asked them what they wanted."

"Mother" It was a dreadful thing for you to do! Suppose they had rushed in?"

"Well, suppose they had," grandma replied quite unperturbed, "wouldn't I have rushed them out again?"

South's First Railroad
Established a Record

The railroad between Charleston and Hamburg, S. C., was the first in the South, second in the United States and the first in the world to attain a length of 100 miles, says the Detroit News. The South Carolina railroad was chartered in 1827 and in a few years was completed from Charleston to Hamburg and over the Savannah river to Augusta, Ga. In 1834 it was the longest continuous line of railroad in the United States or Europe.

The first locomotive built in the country was constructed for the South Carolina railroad. This engine, bearing the name "The Best Friend," ran for many years with great success. A queer accident happened to "The Best Friend." The engine had a negro fireman, unused to the ways of steam, who became much annoyed at the sound of escaping steam of the safety valve. He tied down the safety valve. The result was an explosion which destroyed him and partly destroyed the engine. "The Best Friend" was soon rebuilt and put back upon the track to do its accustomed work. The distance from Charleston to Hamburg, 133 miles, was performed in daylight, from six in the morning to six at night.

In Society's Realm

At a recent meeting of the Anchor Club of the First Christian church, the dates for the Christmas bazaar were set for December 5 and 6.

Saturday afternoon the Ladies Auxiliary of the CharleROI-Monessen hospital will hold a bake sale at 409 Fallowfield avenue, next to the Community Savings bank. Any donations will be gratefully received by the chairlady, Mrs. Nathan Greenberg.

A special meeting of the Ladies Aid met last night in the Sunday school room of the Washington Avenue Presbyterian church, with 20 members present. After the business session the members adjourned. It was decided that the annual Christmas bazaar would be held this year December 11, 12 and 13.

Miss Frances Humphries was highly honored last evening, when thirty-five of her friends attended her outgoing party, at the home of Miss Margaret Ellison of Fallowfield avenue. Music, games and dancing were the chief diversions of the evening and at a late hour a sumptuous luncheon was served. Miss Frances was the recipient of many beautiful gifts.

At the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Crytzer of McKean avenue last night the sales force of the Thomas P. Tweed store gathered and accorded Mrs. Verna Munch, who before her marriage a few months ago was Miss Ruth Crytzer, a delightful surprise in the form of a miscellaneous shower. They presented her with a beautiful linen table set in addition to numerous kitchen articles. An evening of merrymaking was spent, followed by the serving of a delicious luncheon by Mrs. Crytzer, assisted by Mrs. Edgar Cocame and Mrs. Paul Steel.

Following a covered dish social that was enjoyed by approximately 30 members of the Self Denial class of the Washington Avenue Presbyterian church held at the church last night, the first fall business session of the society was presided over by the president, Mrs. L. R. Kinger. The outstanding feature of this session was the election of officers for the ensuing six months, which resulted as follows: President, Mrs. W. C. Walters, vice president, Mrs. William Foulkes; treasurer, Mrs. Charles Pierce; secretary, Miss Mary Brady.

Mrs. Ed. Steen of Crest avenue was hostess to the members of the Get-Together Club last evening. Every member of the club responded to call with two visitors present. Two new members, Mrs. James Johns and Mrs. Jenkins, were taken into the society during the business session. Cards were the main diversions of the social hour. Favors were awarded Mrs. Frank Protin, Mrs. William Newton and Mrs. J. P. Bohlander. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. F. Protin, Wednesday evening, October 1. Luncheon was served by the hostess.

An enjoyable evening was spent last night by the members of the Pollyanna society of Christ Lutheran church at the home of Mrs. Ross A. Bennington of 337 Fallowfield avenue, when they held their regular bi-monthly meeting. The regular routine business session opened the meeting, followed by a social hour, and Mrs. Bennington served a dainty luncheon with the assistance of her mother, Mrs. Albert Heuple of Washington avenue. There was a good attendance of members at last night's meeting, in addition to two visitors. The next meeting will be held at the church, with Mrs. Charlotte Anthony as hostess.

Miss Dorothy Watson of Railroad street, North CharleROI was hostess last evening to the first meeting since June of the Jane Allen society of the Christ Lutheran church. A very good attendance turned out for the meeting and two new members were enrolled into the society. During the business meeting plans were discussed for the year and it was decided that the society would meet once a month here after instead of semi-monthly. Miss Watson served a dainty luncheon, after which a social hour was spent in music and social converse. There will be a special meeting held in two weeks time for the purpose of planning for Halloween.

Mrs. H. Raymond Lowstuter of Alleghippa avenue, Monessen, entertained the members of the Thursday Afternoon Bridge Club of CharleROI and a number of out-of-town guests at her home last evening with a dinner party and bridge. After the serving of a very delicious dinner, covers being laid for 12, an enjoyable evening of cards was spent. Three tables were in play and the favors were presented to Mrs. A. S. Sickman of North CharleROI and Mrs. Claude F. Jenkins of this place. Besides the members of the CharleROI club there were present Mrs. Frank Wille and

Mrs. Gillon of McKeesport, Mrs. I. E. Roland of Elizabeth and Mrs. Elsie McDermott of CharleROI.

ELEANOR ONE OF FILM'S YOUNGER LEADING LADIES

Eleanor Boardman is one of the most popular of the screen's younger leading women. "Wine of Youth" and "Sinners in Silk" are her two most recent pictures.

BIG STAR CAST IN "PERFECT FLAPPER"

It was inevitable that Colleen Moore who created such a sensation in "Flaming Youth" and "Painted People," both East National pictures, should once again give the screen another portrayal of the modern flapper.

And judging by her remarkable characterization in these pictures it was also inevitable that her next picture be called "The Perfect Flapper," this is the opus scheduled to open at the Majestic Theatre for three days commencing next Monday.

Exceptional attention was given Colleen Moore's forthcoming production because of the astonishing records of this winning star's previous efforts, and it is said that she rises to still greater heights in "The Perfect Flapper."

COOLIDGE AND DAWES
ONCE RAN A GROCERYAncestors of Candidates
Were Partners.

Chicago.—The Coolidge and Dawes families are not so unacquainted as the distance between Massachusetts and Illinois might make it appear. Their ancestors knew each other and worked together, writes Oscar Hewitt the Chicago Tribune.

Now it is "Coolidge and Dawes," candidates for the two highest offices in the land.

Many years ago—about 147—it was Dawes & Coolidge, grocers, of Worcester, Mass.

The Dawes of the firm was the great-great-grandfather of another one of the grandfathers of Gen. Charles Dawes, Republican nominee for president. The Coolidge of the firm was an ancestor of the President of the United States. In the brief day a newspaper reporter the reconstruction of the Coolidge family tree too tedious a task to say with certainty that the grocer Coolidge was a grandfather of several generations of the present head of the nation. But one genealogy so indicates, and another says so.

a different branch of the tree from that on which the President originated.

Companion of Revere.

The grocer Dawes was William, related to usually as "the patriot," who was the companion of Paul Revere, the famous of Lexington.

Concerning his poem it has been noted that "Mr. Longfellow wrote to acquaintance who sent him a little antiquarian volume, correcting some of the imaginative statements in Paul Revere's Ride."

"Please accept my thanks for your beautiful book, William Dawes and his wife Paul Revere. I have read it with great interest and pleasure. I am afraid that you have convinced me of the historic crimes and misdeeds, but I shall not appeal."

This little volume referred to is an essay by Henry W. Henshaw read before the New England Historic Genealogical society on June 7, 1876. In which is attached a genealogy of the Dawes family.

It was in that genealogy that the fact was disclosed that Dawes and Coolidge were in the grocery business.

The particular Dawes of interest to us was named William, and was born October 2, 1719. The Dawses for five generations up to that time were farmers and sons, but this William was a clubfoot and could not follow trade. He became a goldsmith.

1742 he married Lydia, daughter of Thomas Boone, a bookseller of Boston, who, one authority asserts, published the first newspaper in America. The children were born of this marriage, of whom William "the patriot" is the second, born September 6, 1757. The third child was a girl, who was named Lydia, born February 10, 1767. She married John Coolidge, January 5, 1772.

Two Families Associated.

It was with his brother-in-law, John Coolidge, that William Dawes, "the patriot," went into the grocery business. John Coolidge seemed to go along with the Dawses at that time. After William Dawes, father of the patriot, married a second time, a number of pieces of real estate in Boston were sold by the heirs of the patriot. Regarding one of them the island essay says:

"On January 2 following (1779) others sold a piece of garden land on Pen Lane, on the northwest corner of the road to Barton's point, for 300 pounds to Daniel Jackson, Mrs. Dawes' sister, and finally they sold the Lockman mansion, on Southbury street, to Coolidge for 1200 pounds. It is next to the Benjamin Lustis estate, and Samuel Pitts, and thus very near the Dawes mansion."

The elder William Dawes struggled strongly with the colonies and the writer says that "his apprenticeship among the party who threw the overboard in the Boston harbor."

The elder William Dawes was a religious man according to light of his day, and is said not to have allowed his children to laugh or kick out of the window on the Sabbath. Also, one history says: "Not only was the food for Sunday prepared Saturday, that the day might be a day of rest for all members of the household, but the shoes and garments were brushed and prepared before bed."

Finds Himself an Alien

New York.—Samuel Peterson of Loosport, Ind., who has voted in the lion's elections for the last 70 years, covered upon his return to this country from a visit to his native Denmark that he was an alien. He was admitted to land on the promise that he would go immediately to his home.

Peterson told the immigration authorities that he had come to the United States with his parents when he was twenty, and never had thought it necessary to become naturalized.

Hatches Family in Tree

Columbia, Pa.—There is one hen in Lancaster county with high ideals, as selected a tree in which to lay her eggs and hatch a family. She belongs to Ephraim Newcomer of Glen Manor, and she chose an apple tree in the orchard.

Shellenberger. Shellenberger found a hen had made her nest in a dead crooked, eight feet from the ground. There were ten chicks about 10 days old in the nest.

His Conscience Troubled Him

"I know I have done wrong, please forgive me for not writing shridu unforgive me for not doing my duty and writing you before. I am thankful to God and the good remedy He gave you, and would not take $500 for the good the first dose gave me. I have been bothered for many years with gas in my stomach and indigestion, but since taking May's Wonderful Remedy, two years ago, I have had no such trouble." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus for the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver, and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. At all druggists.

Napoleon said an army couldn't fight on an empty stomach, yet there were times when he tried to feed his men only on "scraps."

This Complete Home Outfit made up of most recent creations, at $695

This outfit is being displayed in our windows this week. Look over the furniture and see if it isn't made up of good-looking furniture. As we say, this outfit is made up of the country's most recent creations that are proving to be very desirable. It is the kind of furniture that will give excellent service and designed to hold your charm with its beauty for life. There is a cozy living room, a friendly dining room, a restful bedroom and a kitchen in all pure white. In all, four rooms priced for fall brides at $695.00.

Odd Pieces that Add to the Home

An odd chair, table or desk and the cheering light of a lamp are the finishing touches for your living room. They perform a real duty in completing the room and are very moderately priced. Note these:

Coxwell Chair in Mohair $85.00

Mahogany Library Table is $32.50

Polychrome Bridge Lamps Priced $19.75

16 PIECES OF AMERICAN WALNUT FURNITURE IN DINING ROOM SUITE $235

A delightful dining room suite—complete in every detail. There are five chairs and a host's chair—an extension table, buffet, china cabinet and serving table. These are in the Queen Anne motif—pleasing and graceful and made of gumwood and walnut in American walnut finish. Chairs have blue leather seats. Priced $235.00.

A Special Davenport Tables $29.75

ITALIAN RENAISSANCE OR TUDOR DESIGN

A davenport table is a piece that will fit into any home and at the remarkably low price quoted on these two tables should appeal to everyone. The one on the left is of the Italian Renaissance period, and the one sketched on the right in the Tudor. They are finished in waxed American walnut. Handsomely shaped tops with molded edges. These tables are 60 inches long. Priced $29.75.

ITALIAN-AMERICANS OF NEW YORK HONOR WORLD FLYERS.

Bronze trophy, three feet high, presented to Lieuts. Lowell Smith and Ed. Nelson, plane men, at the reception at Mineola, Long Island, by Major Fiorenzo La Guardia, former congressman, in the name of the Italian-American residents of the city of New York. The trophy was offered at the initiative of the Corriere d'America, New York Italian daily, and is the work of the noted Italian-American sculptor, Onorio Ruotolo, of New York. The winged bronze centaur upholds a flaming heart, symbolizing the generous spirit exhibited by the American flyers towards the less fortunate Italian aviator, Lieut. Antonio Locatelli, and his plane-mates.

BRITISH HARD TIMES FILL AUCTION ROOMS

Treasures From Country Homes Now on Market.

London.—Sir Rider Haggard writes to the Times deploring that the roofs of old English country mansions are rotting and falling in because the owners cannot afford to keep them up and there is no one to buy them, and that with them disappears the old English country life of which they were the center.

The contents of these old houses are pouring into the market as they have never done before, and popular belief is that most of these valuables are bought in by London art dealers for their American customers.

Even some of the old families which are known to be immensely rich, according to English values, are taking advantage of the high tide of art prices. For example, for sale soon at the famous Christie auction rooms is a group of old masters of world reputation put up by the duke of Westminster, which includes three pictures by Rubens forming part of a series said to have been painted by order of Philip IV to decorate a Carmelite convent; also a Virgin and Child by Van Dyke.

Many Other Treasures Sold.

Other lots offered at Christie's, which combine the value of pictures with art, are:

"Old English furniture and needlework, the property of her grace, the duchess of Wellington," and carved oak furniture, the "property of his grace the duke of Marlborough and removed from a farmhouse on the Blenheim estate."

Also porcelains belonging to the Right Hon. Earl Howe, G. C. V. O.; the Sneyd heirlooms from Keele hall, Staffordshire, which have a romantic flavor and consist mostly of old silver, furniture and porcelains; a valuable collection of pictures left by the late earl of Hardwicke; furniture belonging to the earl of Sandwich; and a few old masters put up by the right honorable, the earl of Clarendon, P. C., G. C. B., G. C. V. O.

Among the offerings at Sotheby's within the next month are valuable pictures, the property of Lady Edward Grosvenor, Sir John Hippisley, and other articles belonging to the countess of Gosford and Cora, countess of Stratford.

Private Bargains Are Made.

It is many years since any of the duke of Westminster's collection of old masters have appeared in the auction rooms, although some star picture has occasionally been sold by a private bargain, and treasures from Blenheim have rarely been obtainable in the lifetime of the present duke of Marlborough.

The belief that nearly everything sold goes to America is not entirely true. The good old reliable but uninspired British landscape artists of 100 years ago, whose works harmonized perfectly with the old country houses are enjoying a boom in prices. The majority of them are practically unknown in America, and are not in demand there, yet the swiftness with which $2,000 or $3,000 are bid for pictures that went begging on the painter's hands shows that there is yet money in England for art.

Speed of Riveting Hammer.
Riveting hammers are made with six, eight and nine-inch strokes, and the speed of the piston depends somewhat on the length of the hammer. The speed of the piston also depends on the piston; the short piston running more rapidly than a long piston. These piston speeds will vary from ten to sixteen blows per second, or from 600 to 1,000 blows per minute. The faster speeds are commonly found in ship-building and carbide plants, and the slower speeds are found in boiler shops.

NEW DEPUTY CHIEF OF STAFF WAS HIGH IN A. E. F. COMMAND

Brig. Gen. Dennis E. Nolan (above), the new deputy chief of staff of the army, succeeding Maj. Gen. John I. Hines, now chief of staff, was assistant chief of staff of the A. E. F. during the entire operations in France.

Birth of Christ

The Christian era was first figured out in about 332 by a monk named Dionysius Exiguus. At that time the actual date of Christ's birth was only a matter of speculation. Later, when the calendar took more definite form, the birth of Christ was put on the 25th of December, but it was found to be impractical to change the date of the era which was already fairly well established. As a matter of fact, it is now believed that Jesus was born three or four years before the beginning of the era known as the Christian. So we have the anomalous fact that Christ was born about four years B. C. But the exact date of Christ's birth is unknown.

Lion of Lucerne

The Lion of Lucerne is a famous piece of sculpture by Albert Thorwaldsen, commemorating the heroism and devotion of nearly eight hundred Swiss guards, who died to save Louis XVI, in the attack on the Tuilleries, August 10, 1792. The colossal figure of the crouching lion, transfixed and dying, but still faithfully defending the shield of France, is carved in a recess in the face of an upright, vine-draped rock in a little park at Lucerne, Switzerland. A commemorative inscription, with the names of the officers killed, is cut in the rock.

Perspiration of Dogs

Dogs sweat or perspire very little. The physiological purpose of perspiration seems to be the regulation of the temperature of the body. But in the case of the dog, as well as many other animals, the body temperature is regulated by respiration. After running a dog breathes more rapidly—panting. This has the same cooling effect as sweating would have.

NOTICE TO FENCE BUILDERS.

Bids will be received by the Board of School Directors of the School District of Charleroi, Pa., for furnishing and erecting Wire Link Fence Material to enclose two school buildings.

Bids will close at 2 o'clock, Tuesday evening, October 7, 1924.

Dear Sirs

Please guard your hair

By Edna Wallace Hopper

I feel sorry to see men grow bald. It is easy to keep and to cultivate hair, and you owe it to yourselves and to us.

For many years I have sought and consulted some of the world's greatest experts on hair. They all agree that hair health comes from a clean and healthy scalp. Combat the hardened oil and dandruff which stifle the hair roots. Tone and stimulate the scalp. Then hair thrives, just as flowers thrive in a well-kept garden.

Those experts have always supplied me the best help known to science. Each new and better help discovered has come to me at once. Now I have had all of these combined in a product I call my Hair Youth. I have placed it on drug and toilet counters at every woman's call. But men need it more than women, so this is written to urge men to learn how much it does.

I am no longer young. For 35 years I have been a stage star. But my hair today is thicker and finer than 40 years ago. I have never had falling hair or dandruff and never a touch of gray. Now I offer you in my Hair Youth every help which brought those results to me. I am well assured that they combine the greatest hair helps in existence.

Edna Wallace Hopper's Hair Youth is sold everywhere today. It costs 50c and $1 per bottle.

Write me for my beauty book and I'll send with it something else to please you. Edna Wallace Hopper, 536 Lake Shore Drive, Chicago.

EXPLAINS ACTION OF LIGHTNING

Philadelphia, Sept. 19.—A person lying flat on the ground during a thunderstorm is less likely to be struck by a bolt of lightning than a person standing upright, Dr. F. W. Peek, Jr., consulting engineer of the General Electric Co., told the World's Foremost scientists today when they gathered for a session of the Franklin Institute centenary celebration.

The statement of Dr. Peek may give those who are frightened in electrical storms and now hide in closets or dark corners an added sense of security and they will "flop" instead of hiding from the flashes of lightning and the roar of thunder.

Dr. Peek, who based his conclusion on experiments conducted with artificial lightning of two million volts, said that lightning strikes above the ground and a flat object will only be hit once out of every 100 bolts while an upright object would be hit 15 times out of every 100 strokes.

"Lightning from a cloud overhead does not always strike the highest object or rod, unless the height of that object is more than 2.5 per cent of the distance between the cloud and the earth," he said. "The division of hits is about equal between cloud and ground when the object is 1.1 per cent of the cloud height."

"Lightning either strikes an upright object or some distance away, that there is a protected area around an object or rod with a radius equal to four times the height of the rod where lightning will not hit."

For example, Dr. Peek explained, if you are out and are caught in a storm do not stand directly under tree but stand away from the trunk even if you get wet for if a tree is 25 feet high, lightning may strike the tree but a circle 100 feet from the tree is safe ground.

"Then, too, the chance of being hit is less when a storm cloud is not directly overhead," Dr. Peek added. The voltage of natural lightning is about 100,000,000 which is one million times the voltage used in lighting the homes, Dr. Peek said his research work has revealed.

"If this energy of a natural lightning stroke could be put into a storage battery it would be sufficient electricity to operate an electric automobile about five miles or operate an electric flat iron for a day."

"But since this energy is dissipated in a very short time, the effect of this enormous power is explosive and destructive."

Church Owns Race Track

Perhaps there is only one church in the world which owns a race course. Half a mile from Esher church in the English county of Surrey, is the Sandown race course. The church has owned most of this land for nearly three hundred years, and it derives a big revenue from the race meetings.

He Wasn't Polite

In a recent entrance examination paper one question was: "Explain the difference between a strong verb and a weak verb." A small boy's answer read: "If I say shut the door it is a strong verb; but if I say please shut the door, it is a weak one."—London Post.

Real Test of Life

Success comes at the finish not at the beginning of things. A completed task is the test of ability, of efficiency of will power. How does the thing you start turn out? Do you leave it half done or do you finish it like a real victor?—Grit.

When Ears of Gadding Wives Were Cropped

The ancient Assyrians, 2500 B. C., punished severely their gadding, wasteful wives, according to writings on clay tablets recently unearthed by Doctor Ritzky, Czechoslovak archeologist.

If a gadding wife went to see an other married woman in a distant house her ears were cropped as a penalty. If a husband found his wife with another man he was at liberty to kill or mutilate both.

A scold or reviler was separated from husband and children and a wasteful wife could be called to account before the authorities and divorced. If the husband did not divorce her she had the option of being a servant to the second wife. An invalid wife had the same tragic option, or she could go home to her father.

If a married man was living in his father-in-law's house and his wife died he had the right to marry one of her sisters on the same dowry.

Cardington Will Become World's Greatest Airport

London.—The cabinet's decision to establish an imperial airship service and to select Cardington, in Bedfordshire, as the home of airship research and experiment will make Cardington the world's greatest airport. It was here that the ill-fated R-38, which broke her back at Hull, was built, and her sister ship, R-37, now stands half completed in the shed. This colossal shed is capable of accommodating two such airships, has up-to-date works nearby a gas-manufacturing and painting offices.

Vienese Boulevard

The Ring-Strasse in Vienna is a series of boulevards about three miles long, occupying the site of an ancient line of fortifications which, until 1858, separated the old or inner portion of the city from the new or outer portion. Ring Strasse is 165 feet wide and forms the boundary line of five sides of an irregular hexagon, the sixth side being bounded by the Franz-Josef quay on the Danube canal.

Most Valuable Gem

Probably the most expensive stone in the world is the stone known as the oriental amethyst. This is really a sapphire of amethyst color. Our amethysts are only quartz. Real amethysts, emeralds, rubies and sapphires belong to the corundum series and are all of the same composition. There are only a few of these valuable oriental amethysts in the world and these are guarded by Indian rajahs.
